

Quality Policy

Nova is committed to quality in all aspects of the company's activities. Quality is measured by the satisfaction of our customers. We believe that high-quality products are a necessary condition for our financial success and for the achievement of our strategic goal - leadership in process control for the semiconductor industry.

Quality Elements within Nova

Customer support: the key to increasing Nova's competitive edge is based on the complete understanding and meeting of customer needs and requirements.

Continuous improvement: Continuous improvement will be achieved by examination of the effectiveness of the activities we perform and by initiating corrective and preventive actions.

Employee involvement: Nova's culture encourages employees to carry out initiatives, to make decisions and to assume responsibility.

Systematic work: Effective use of procedures and working methods is the basis for quality products.

Objectives: The definition of ambitious, measurable and controllable quality objectives and allocation of resources for their achievement.

Nova's employees are committed to this quality policy. Compliance with this policy is the guarantee for our company's success.